

IX. DATES OF PUBLICATION AND BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTES
(contd from p.645)

If under the following book titles it is said "Add" it means that the new data are an addition to the "Dates of Publication" by Stearn and van Steenis-Kruseman in Fl.Mal. I, 4 (1954) clxiii-ccxix, or to later information published in this Bulletin, parts 11-14, 1955-1959.

I am indebted to Prof. Dr H. M e r x m ü l l e r and his collaborators at Munich for data found in the "Allgemeine Bibliographie" (Leipzig, vols 1-14, 1856-1869).

Dr F. A. S t a f l e u was so kind to draw our attention to a French publication on the works of Lamarck and gave us permission to extract it here.

N o t e. The volumes originally sold so rapidly that several other editions, some in octavo, were brought out, and even a French translation under the title "Recherches asiatiques".

The 'verbatim' Calcutta edition was printed later and dated accordingly. For nomenclature only the above-mentioned years should be considered.

B é l a n g e r, Ch., Voyage aux Indes Orientales, etc. 1825-29. Botanique I. Phanérogames - Botanique II. Cryptogamie.

Add: cf. Brandes, Lit.Zeit. n.4 (21.Jan. 1835) 69; A.Griesebach in Wiegmann, Arch.Nat.Gesch. 7<sup>2</sup> (1841) 446.

In Fl.Mal. I, 4 (1954) clxix it is mentioned that the Cryptogamie by Bélanger, Bory de St.Vincent & Montagne is usually quoted 1846, the year also given by Pritzell in his Thesaurus. From the reference in Brandes, it appears that 2 sheets and 8 uncoloured plates were already issued in or before Jan.1835! This proves also that the work was issued in parts.

In his review of botanical literature of about 1840, Grisebach noted that Part II, Cryptogamie, was completed. In total 4 fascicles had been issued at that time, the only ones ever published. The phanerogams consist of 15 plates without text.

Add: cf. R.Mansfeld in Fedde, Rep. 39 (1936) 318; Fl.Mal. Bull. n.11 (1955) 432.

Most copies of this work end with tab.15 fig.73. In 1928 the Botanical Museum at Berlin-Dahlem acquired a copy with 16 tab. containing 78 fig.

The following plants are depicted on t.16: fig.74 Callostylis rigida, fig.75 Thelasis carinata, fig.76 Spathoglottis plicata, fig.77 Aphyllorchis pallida, fig.78 Rhynchanthera paniculata.

A photocopy of tab.16 was presented to Kew Library, to Leyden Herbarium, and possibly to other libraries.

Blume, C.L., Flora Javae, etc. 1828-1851.

Fasc.40-42 are dated 1851, a year accepted both by Danser and De Wit. It is different for fasc.36-39 (Filices), for which Danser accepted 1849, whereas De Wit (see Fl.Mal.Bull. n.5, 1949, 138-141) found that Blume sent copies to the Ministry of the Interior on Aug.31, 1847. In Gersdorf's Repert. these fascicles are dated 1849; in Wiegmann's Archif even later, viz 1851, while it is stated that fasc.40-42 were issued in the same year (the not disputed 1851). In the Allgem.Bibliogr.f.Deutschl. 1851 fasc.36-39 are reviewed in Febr., but dated 1849; fasc.40-42 is reviewed in Dec.1851.

Add: cf. Allgem.Bibliogr.f.Deutschl. 1, n.30 (22.Juli 1836) 505; ibid. 2, n.8 (24.Feb.1837) 115; ibid. 3, n.11 (16. März 1838) 147; Brandes, Lit.Zeit. n.32 (3.Aug.1836) 629; A. Grisebach in Wiegmann, Arch.f.Nat.Gesch. 10<sup>2</sup> (1844) 411; ibid. 17<sup>2</sup> (1851) 326, 352; Gersdorf, Repert.Deut.Ausl.Lit. 7<sup>1</sup> (1849) 376.

The dates for fasc.1-15 are confirmed.

The review of Grisebach confirms the data in Bot.Zeit. (see Fl.Mal.Bull. n.14, 1959, 641), that the last parts of vol.2 were published in 1843. It states that the whole work was finished with vols 3 and 4 in 1849. It is included in Grisebach's literature list for 1850, but there is a special note (Grisebach, l.c.p.352) that although the title-page of vol.3 is 1847, it was issued April 1849! As Teyler's Library at Haarlem received the bill of vol.3 in January 1849, it must have been available at that time, but certainly not in 1843 as Dr H.C.D.de Wit suggested.

In Gersdorf's Repert. fasc.31-36 (= vol.3) are included in Jahrgang 1849 also.

Add: cf. Gersdorf, Repert.Deut.Ausl.Liter. 10<sup>2</sup> (1852) 269-272; ibid. 14<sup>2</sup> (1856) 162; ibid. 15<sup>2</sup> (1857) 93; Allg.Bibliogr.Monatl.Verz. 1, n.3 (März 1856) 45; ibid. 1, n.7 (Juli 1856) 115; ibid. 2, n.4 (Apr.1857) 54; Allgem.Bibliogr.f.Deutschl. n.22 (28.Mai 1857) 157; Bot.Zeit. 14 (7.März 1856) 185-188; ibid. 14 (1.Aug.1856) 540-541.

The probable publication dates of the fascicles of this work were published in Fl.Mal. I, 4 (1954) clxxii.

Vol.1.--Following the data given on the first page of each numbered fascicle of vol.1, I assumed that it was published in 24 parts. In Gersdorf 1852 l.c. it is said to have been issued in 25 parts, each of one sheet. As a matter of fact the volume runs to 25 sheets, the last one, however, does not have a heading like all the others, although p.384 (end of sheet n.24) has a line at the bottom as all the other fascicles have. As the date from fasc.21 onwards reads 1851 only, it does not make much difference.

Vol.2.--The Preface, and title-page of fasc.1, vol.2, are dated 1852. Beumée (see Fl.Mal. I, 4, 1954, clxxii; discussed extensively in Fl.Mal.Bull. n.3, 1948, 69-70), after ample consideration, dated fasc.1-8, Feb.1856; nearly the same date, viz Feb.1, 1856, is given by Miquel in the Bot.Zeit. l.c. p. 185. In Gersdorf's Repert. 1854 is given as date of issue for these fascicles, a date which cannot be accepted. One cannot deny that it sometimes looks as if Blume withheld his publications on intention from colleagues who were working on the same families! In the Allgem.Bibliographie l.c., fasc.1-8 and 9-12 are reviewed respectively in March and July 1856, confirming Miquel's dates (see also Fl.Mal. I, 4, 1954, clxxii). The last lot, pp.193-256 (comprising fasc.13-16) are reviewed in April 1857, and dated 1857! They probably have appeared early in the year. The whole 2nd volume was reviewed in May 1857 in the Allgem.Bibliogr.f.Deutschl. It seems justified to date fasc.13-16 as early 1857, probably March.

Add: cf. Allgem.Bibliogr.Leipzig,Monatl.Verz. 4, n.2 (Feb. 1859) 24; ibid. n.5 (May 1859) 80.

Evidently the 6th part ends with p.74, and we may assume that part 7 starts with p.75. In these references parts 3-6 are dated 1858 (reviewed in May 1859).

The supposition expressed by R.Tournay (Bull.Soc.R.Bot. Belg.90, 1958, 343-346 (see also Fl.Mal.Bull. n.14, 1959, 642) that this volume was probably published in parts from 1858 till 1859, is confirmed, as in above-mentioned references it is stated that fasc.7-12, pp.75-162 were published in 1859!

Fascicle 1 (1842) was issued in 1843.

Some of the years of publication of the parts deviate from those published in Fl.Mal. I, 4 (1954) clxxiii. It is stated that the 1st fascicle was issued in 1843; fascicles 6-7 are dated both 1846, with a note that he (Grisebach) did not receive them before 1847.

On the authority of Sherborn & Woodward (cf. Fl.Mal. I, 4, 1954, clxxv) it was accepted that the publication date was 1844, as was mentioned in Pritzell also. Rickett supposed (cf. Fl.Mal.Bull. n.14, 1959, 642) that it was published in two instalments, respectively issued in 1843 and 1844. The paper by Mr Zain-ul-Abidin drew my attention to the fact that references to this work are found at least from 1839 onwards, e.g. in Endlicher, Genera Plantarum, and in Walper's Repertorium.

Consultation of Wiegmann's Archif für Naturgeschichte revealed that 6 botanical parts were published in 1835, 36 parts had appeared in 1840 (noted that publication was half-way), 41 in 1841, 49 in 1842, and by 1844 the whole botanical volume (it reads vol.5, but must read vol.4) was published. Evidently Sherborn & Woodward saw only the reference in Arch. Nat.Gesch. 11<sup>2</sup>, and not those in the preceding volumes. No special mention of the Atlas was made.

On the wrapper was a note that the 1st part of Suppl. 4 would be published later. In Wiegmann's Archif Suppl. 4 is listed with the literature of 1847, what is no proof, however.

N o t e. Fascicle 9, 1818, was issued almost simultaneously with J.G.C. In the cited number part 26 of the Illustrationes is reviewed, about coinciding with Stearn's date of issue, Nov. 1848. In the same review is mentioned, however, that parts 27 and 28, with plates 261-280 also appeared; these were dated by Stearn Sept. and Dec. 1849 respectively (see Fl.Mal. I, 4, 1954, cxcl).

The work was issued in parts, comprising 5 plates each. In 1835 (title-page date) 4 parts appeared, followed by some others in 1836. It is evident that the title-page does not hold. As it is another edition of the 'Révision des Graminées' (see Fl.Mal. I, 4, 1954, cxci), this later edition has no consequences for priority.

N o t e. The publication date for fasc.8 is stated to be Sept.1 1845 (in Gersdorf l.c. 42, 1846, 215, n.4086); fasc.10 is included in Gersdorf's Repert. of 1853 (under n.4392), coinciding with the year given by Heinsius, Bücherlexicon. In the Allgem.Bibliogr.f.Deutschl. fasc.10 is reviewed in July 1853. It seems safe to date it 1853.

In Wiegmann's Archif it is reviewed with publications is-

This is no certain proof, however, that it was not issued in fascicles.

Up to and including 1840, 28 parts were issued; in 1841 11 others followed. At that time the 1st part of the cellular cryptogams was out and the phanerogams were published up to the end of the Thalamiflorae (Cand.Syst.). In 1846 parts 1-54 had been published, probably no other parts appeared.

The atlas, dated 1845 too, was not finished before 1851 (cf. Wiegmann's Repert. l.c. 1852. 387).

The first volume, comprising 472 pp., was extensively reviewed (enumeration of families, genera, etc.) by Grisebach under the literature published in 1847. In 1850 (not 1851) the phanerogams were finished (evidently in the second volume), and again extensively reviewed. Respectively vol.4 and 5 of the whole work.

Although Stearn could exactly find out the publication dates of the only 4 published parts, he found no evidence as to the contents of those. According to Pritzell, Thes.Lit.Bot. 1872, originally 8 fascicles, each of 12 plates, were planned.

Publication probably was as follows:

Part	Pages	Plates	Dates
1	1-?12	1-?12	Apr. 1805
2	?13-?20	?13-?24	June 1805
3	?21-?28	?25-?36	June 1805
4	?29-32	?37-50	Apr.-May 1806

In this reference the first part is listed under the literature received in 1835. Stearn gives the date Jan.1836, but possibly it was available earlier in Germany.

Although the year mentioned on the binding is 1790, the date of publication is Febr. 7, 1791 (see its preface passim). The issue had been retarded. The date is of importance because of the description of Altingia excelsa Noroña (in l.c. Art. 2, descr.; Art. 3, nomen).

The 1st fascicle of vol. 2 is reviewed in the cited number. The date 1808 is given for it. The year 1810 (given by Jackson l.c., see Fl. Mal. I, 4, 1954, ccxviii) can be eliminated.

The dates given by Pritzel are 1835-37; in Flora and Bradley Bibliography the year 1835 is given for both decades, but it is not reviewed in Flora before 1837.

In Wiegmann's Archif the following information was published: dec.1 (1835), dec.2 (1835); the first decade was included in the list for 1835, the second for 1836. This proves at least that the 2nd decade was not published simultaneously with the first.

On the back of the wrapper of the 1st decade was an announcement by Zenker, dated: Dabam Jenae mense Febr.1835. It is pasted on the back of the volume in Teyler's Library.
